Barber and Janeff make CoStar's Power Brokers List

AUSTIN, Texas – NAI Austin's Industrial Specialist David Barber and Land and Commercial Building Specialist Dean Janeff were recently chosen as two of CoStar's Power Brokers of 2007. Barber, who worked for NAI in Fort Worth for seven years before joining NAI Austin in September 2006, was also added to the NAI Global Elite in February as a Top Producer based on his production last year. Janeff has also worked for NAI Austin over seven years.

CoStar Group and Real Estate Forum's Power Broker Awards have been around for six years. CoStar chose these awards based on the amount of commercial property leasing and/or sale transactions listed in CoStar's database each year, and by the broker's supplied transaction data supplied to CoStar. CoStar Group, Inc., started 20 years ago and headquartered in Bethesda, Maryland, provides information about the commercial real estate industry, with a database that includes over two million properties in the U.S. and Europe.
